

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Outside: SERVICE HOURS VALIDATION FORM

Youth service can make a decisive difference in helping young people become self-confident members of society, productive workers, and valuable and committed citizens. National Honor Society members are required to earn twelve (12) service hours per school year.

To remain an active member of the National Honor Society, eight (8) hours of your service hours must come from NHS service projects and after-school tutoring. The other four (4) hours need to come from volunteerism in the community or through other service projects. These service hours are limited to school or community volunteer work for which no compensation is received—monetary payment, a grade, or credit hours for another organization.
